

A vintage color photograph of the five members of The Rolling Stones standing behind a dark-colored classic convertible car. The car is parked on a grassy area with trees in the background. The band members are dressed in 1960s style clothing: one in a white turtleneck, one in a striped sweater, one in a yellow shirt and tie, and one in a purple shirt. The fifth member is partially obscured. The car's front grille and hood are visible in the foreground.
